

REMARKS

Claim 1 has been amended to correct a minor inadvertent error. In particular, claim 1 previously recited “a recording mode setting unit configured to set a recording mode of the recording apparatus between the and the second recording mode” It is apparent that the underlined portion of the claim has a missing element and the change made to the claim merely inserts that element so that the claim now reads -- a recording mode setting unit configured to set a recording mode of the recording apparatus between the first recording mode and the second recording mode --.

The subject Amendment thus corrects an obvious inadvertent error. Also, it is believed that consideration of this Amendment will not take a substantial amount of additional effort on the part of the Office. Accordingly, entry of the Amendment under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.312 is respectfully requested.
